Talents

I have a thorough understanding of how to use many of the industry leading programs including the Adobe Creative Suite. With Photoshop, Illustrator, and InDesign as the main programs that I use, I can create clean and stunning layouts that are sure to catch the eye. I know how to manage color, images, and files to ensure clarity and consistency throughout all forms of media. When it comes to web development I can use HTML5, CSS3, SASS, JavaScript and frameworks to build beautiful responsive websites.

About Me

Hello, I'm Evan. I am a graphic and web designer with a strong passion to become a front-end web developer. I have had a strong passion for art and design since I was young and decided to pursue a career in graphic design. I have recently graduated from Southern New Hampshire University with a BA in Graphic design with a concentration in Web Design. I have held a few part time positions as a graphic designer in the past, and I have eight years of experience in print production and the print industry.
